Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer image file is deemed to be objectionable because it promotes and supports the exploitation of children for sexual purposes.

The file is a visual record of sexual exploitation. The image shows two naked young girls, one of whom appears to be performing a sexual act on the other. Images such as this invite viewers to see young children as sexually active and available for adult sexual gratification. The effect is to create or reinforce a sexual interest in children.

The classification of this publication interferes with the right to freedom of expression set out in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. However, this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's intention and is a reasonable limitation on the freedom of expression. The classification reflects the concern of a free and democratic society to protect its young and vulnerable members from sexual exploitation.
